THE DAILY BULLETIN.

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party,
But Established for the Benefit of All.

FRIDAY, NOV. 25, 1892.

Our morning contemporary refers to a "cablegram" from Idaho to a San Francisco paper, the contents of which it denounces as a fabrication. A cablegram from Idaho to the Coast must be a fabrication. The Advertiser should leave cable fiction to the Liberal.

Ka Leo rejoices in the prospect of a change of American representatives here as a result of Mr. Cleveland's election. It charges them with not having minded their own business in politics, and with having shown a lack of sympathy with the Hawaiian people. Mr. Bush, the editor perhaps relies on the position of Mr. Bush the legislator for immunity from arrest for such daring presumption.

The Advertiser still looks to V. V. Ashford for home news from abroad. It publishes another of that gentleman's interviews, this time coming from Chicago. This interview is the same as Mr. Ashford has given in every place he has rested between San Francisco and Canada. He must distribute it in printed slips, as the Chicago words are the same as the St. Louis words, and the St. Louis words an abbreviation of the Tacoma interview. The burden of Mr. Ashford's expressions on the Hawaiian situation is spite against the authorities who squelched his final attempt—aided and abetted by the Advertiser's party—at making himself dictator.

THE CABLE QUESTION.

The granting of an exclusive franchise to a Hawaiian company for laying a cable to the American coast will simply mean the placing of an obstruction in the way of having a cable laid at all. That is, unless the applicants for a franchise will deposit with the Government a guarantee that they are prepared to provide a substantial quota of the capital required to carry the project to fulfillment. Unless the alleged domestic promoters are prepared to do more than act as charter-peddlers, their acquisition of an exclusive franchise might easily result in Hawaii's being left out of the direct cable route forever. Hawaii is not a necessity as a cable station in a route from America to either Japan or Australia. In fact, she was not in the scheme proposed many years ago for a cable from British Columbia to Japan—a scheme that is not dead yet according to recent accounts. It is nonsense to talk of a cable from America ending at this group. It would not pay the expenses of the terminal stations and repairs, not to mention interest on the original investment. The importance of a cable to Hawaiian commerce is so great that it would be madness to injure its prospects by going it blind on the empty talk of a parcel of speculators. It can continue to offer respectable distance to any bona fide cable scheme, but she cannot afford to put it in the power of irresponsible persons to call, "Stand and deliver," to foreign Governments or capitalists whenever they make a motion toward the greatly desired consummation.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL - V.

We now come to the Attorney-General's Department which foots up as shown before, to a total of $338,938.84, against $31,200 appropriated for the same services during last period (including $21,140 voted under the Interior Department for prison expenses for the first six months of last period)—an apparent reduction of $92,261.16.

To consider this department's appropriations properly we shall have to take them up island by island, as the Legislature have, this period, decided to revert to the pernicious methods of the sessions of 1882 and 1884, and, by appropriating his salary separately, cause each subordinate police official to have a direct and immediate interest in lobbying the Legislature to get an increase or to prevent a decrease in his wages, and to further induce him in the future to take a practical and personal interest and share in politics, secretly or openly, by helping to secure the return of candidates favorable to his interests, or defeat those opposed to him, and so put an end to the benefits to the country secured by the legislation in 1888 and 1890 on interference by officials in elections, and return to the corrupt and personal legislative action of the three previous sessions.

We shall first take up the provisions for the Attorney-General's office. These include $9000 for the salary of the Attorney-General, $6000 for his deputy, and $2400 for a clerk translator and copyist, $3000 for a Jailor for Oahu Prison, incidentals $10,000, coroner's inquests $1500, ditto unpaid bills $170, support, care, and maintenance of prisoners $80,000, ditto unpaid bills $7208.84. A nominal reduction of $12,600 is shown which consists of: A reduction of $1000 or 10 percent on the Attorney-General's salary, $1000 or 14 percent on his deputy's, $600 or 16 percent on the jailor's, $10,000 or 50 percent stricken off the incidentals, which it must be remembered include those of the Marshal and various Sheriffs as well as those of the Attorney-General, (in fact including every expenditure of the department except salaries, in office, Court, and out door work in every district of the Kingdom.) Against this must be set off the amounts for the unpaid bills of the coroners and the support, etc. of prisoners which are an increase of $7378.84 on the amounts voted for those purposes last period. This gives a total reduction of $5221.16.

The next is the provision for policing the island of Oahu. Under this head is provided for, a Marshal at $9000, his deputy at $3600, a first clerk at $3600, Deputy Sheriffs for Koolau, Koolauloa, Waialua and Ewa at $1200 each, and one for Waianae at $840, two clerks for Receiving Station, Honolulu, $2880, Supreme Court officer, $2160, Hack Inspector, $2400, Physician for Police and Prison, $2400, and pay of Police, $68,280.

Two items appearing in the appropriations for last period, a Police Court Prosecutor at $4000, and a second clerk to Marshal at $2400 have been stricken out entirely. The reductions are, $1000 or 14 percent from the Marshal and $400 or 10 percent from his first clerk. The other items were formerly included under the heading Pay of Police, Oahu, which amounted to $125,000 for last period. By footing up the items for this period a total of $87,340 is reached, showing a reduction of $37,660 or over 30 percent, and to this must be added $1200, half of physician's salary formerly paid out of support of prisons. By comparing the figures given early in the session, in the Attorney-General's answer to Rep. Waipuilani's questions in re pay of police, with the figures and recommendations given in the report of the Committee on Ways and Means on the same subject, which formed the basis on which the appropriations were made in this section, we find that this apparent saving has been accomplished by striking out one Deputy Marshal at $4800, taking $1200 or 25 percent off the other; by dismissing every foreign policeman on the force excepting one superannuated officer in the Supreme Court, and one Chinese, one Japanese, and one Portuguese; by doing away entirely with the special police force for Waikiki; by striking out the salaries of all clerical assistants needed to keep the records; by reducing the salaries of the officers retained for civil and watch duty from 6 to 33 percent and dismissing one-third of the watch officers; and by dismissing over 25 percent of the native patrolmen in Honolulu and 22 percent of those in the country districts; and by striking out all allowance for extra officers in time of disturbance or emergency, or for detective work.

This dismisses about 40 men out of 120 of all ranks and duties at one stroke, while seriously reducing the wages of all above the rank of patrolman. The only salaries untouched are those of the deputy sheriffs of Koolau, Koolauloa, Waialua, and Ewa, the hack inspector and the physician. The salary of the deputy sheriff at Koolauloa has been raised $300, or about 45 percent, and that of the deputy sheriff at Waianae $120, or 16 percent. The total reduction thus made in Oahu police expenses foots up $46,660, 32 percent less than the amount for last period, and over half the total nominal reduction made in the whole department.

THIRD STRIKE.

Japanese on Ewa Plantation

Strike in a Body.

They March into Town to Lay Their Grievances Before Their Consul.

A telephone message was received at the Station last night that two hundred Japanese laborers at the Ewa Plantation had quit work. No further particulars were received until this morning, when another message was received over the wires that the Japs had started to walk into town.

About 10:30 o'clock a long string of Japs, looking like a mighty host, were seen marching into town on King street. Those who had not heard of the strike were in fear that the Japs were hired by some of the revolutionists to capture the town. Several of them were interrogated by a BULLETIN reporter, but all that he elicited was, "Japanese fight luna!"

Later the Japanese stated the cause of their quitting work and their grievances. They claimed that the lunas on the plantation treated them brutally, kicking and hitting them as they would animals. Yesterday afternoon a luna struck and brutally maltreated one of the laborers and the gang quit in a body. They decided to come to town and relate their grievances to the Japanese Consul. They started at two o'clock this morning and walked into town, a distance of nineteen miles. They went straight to the Japanese Consulate in the Spreckels building.

The men were sent to the Immigration Depot at Kakaako, where a conference was held, the following being present: Hon. J. B. Atherton, representing the agents of the plantation, Castle & Cooke; Mr. W. J. Lowrey, manager of the plantation; Mr. Nacayama, Japanese Inspector-General, and Mr. Okots of his staff, with Mr. Wray Taylor, Secretary of the Board of Immigration. The Japanese laborers were asked why they had come up to town. Some said on account of ill-treatment, others because their comrades had started.

Mr. Lowrey said he believed the charges of ill-treatment against the luna were exaggerated. One of the men who had tramped the nineteen miles into town had been off duty as "sick" half of last month.

They were all ordered back to their work, and were sent to Ewa by the afternoon train. Their complaints will be drawn up in writing and received on the ground by the Japanese Inspector-General. It is probable that the ringleaders of the strike will be arrested.

This is the third time the Japanese contract laborers have struck at Ewa and walked to town to protest in person against their contracts. Their conduct is irregular and subversive of all discipline, as the proper course is to forward a complaint to be investigated by their lawful guardian, the Japanese Inspector-General.

Mrs. de Style—"How do you manage to get your servants to wear caps? Mine won't." Mrs. de Fashion—"I hire a policeman to admire them."—Judge.

"German Syrup"

Croup. We have selected two of three lines from letters freshly received from parents who have given German Syrup to their children in the emergencies of Croup. You will credit these, because they come from good, substantial people, happy in finding what so many families lack—a medicine containing no evil drug, which mother can administer with confidence to the little ones in their most critical hours, safe and sure that it will carry them through.

Ed. L. WILLITS, of Alma, Neb. I give it to my children when troubled with Croup and never saw any preparation act like it. It is simply miraculous. Fully one-half of our customers are mothers who use Boschee's German Syrup among their children. A medicine to be successful with the little folks must be a treatment for the sudden and terrible foes of childhood, whooping cough, croup, diphtheria and the dangerous inflammations of delicate throats and lungs. ©

Thanksgiving Day on the 24th, are you prepared for it?

Back in New England, where beans rank next in importance to a collegiate education, there's more fuss made over Thanksgiving than any other day in the year. For a month previous the turkeys are inspected and the choicest set aside to be fattened. The biggest, yellowest pumpkin is brought in from the field and transformed into great, thick pies—pies which make the mouth water just to look at them. Did you ever spend Thanksgiving day in Vermont? It's different from any other place in the world. The people there are sincere in their thanksgiving; they go to table and offer up thanks, not only for the good things received but that the bad things were no worse; they're thankful that the stones in the lot on the side hill are still far enough apart to let the sheep nibble at the pasture; for the abundant harvest they've had, or would have had it if "wa'nt for the drought," as the case may be; and last, but not least they're thankful that the cider's just as hard as ever.

A sermon in the morning, a big dinner at noon and a chat at night comprise a Thanksgiving day in New England. Indigestion don't generally come until the next day.

But the feature of the meal is the cooking. The turkey is cooked to a turn, the beans are just right and the pie crust is properly done. The New Englander while adhering to the laws laid down by the Puritans, is progressive in other respects. The Fischer Steel Range meets with more ready sale in the Northeastern States than anywhere else in the world because the people insist upon their food being well-cooked. It's the same with some people here, they'd go without anything rather than part with their Fischer Range. If you're thinking about having a good Thanksgiving dinner think again and get a range from us.

Either there are a great many Bostonians here or the average man has cultivated a taste for baked beans. During the past twelve months there has been a steady run on our stock of Bean Pots but the "Irwin" brought a lot that enables us to supply you with any size you wish.

The attention of the aesthetic person, whose taste runs to sunflowers, is called to the imitation Cut Glass Rose Jars—the personification of loveliness backed up by a price that is suggestive of a gift.

An invoice of Alcohol Lamps made in France (the best place in the world for such things), go to you for exactly half what you've paid for them all your life. No home is perfect without a young baby, a bottle of carminative and an alcohol lamp. We can supply the lamps.

In the way of a Sewing or Night Lamp we have a symphony in polished brass and silver that commands the attention of anyone who appreciates good things in lamps. The shades are the same style, exactly, as those for piano lamps, only in miniature.

A Library Stand Lamp in hand painted porcelain with genuine B. & H. burner is pretty enough for the parlor, the price only is against it—higher priced goods are usually selected for that part of the house.
